The executive president of ETECSA, reported this Thursday on her Twitter account that the official act was held on this day to start the technical work of installing the new submarine cable. This – she highlighted – is the result of joint work between the ETECSA teams and the French company Orange SA, which will allow the diversification of Internet connection routes in Cuba.

The submarine cable system will be between Martinique and the province of Cienfuegos, and its objective is to support the international expansion of ETECSA in the face of a growing demand for internet connection and broadband. The physical structure of the submarine cable will be ready in 2023 and will give the country a new route for international services, which will geographically diversify the current connectivity. The establishment of the cable will allow –according to the economic possibilities of the country– to continue expanding international connectivity.
